

A Lecture Series

organised by the Department of English, Prafulla Chandra College held on 23rd, 24th & 27th September, 2019

Activity Report

The Department of English, Prafulla Chandra College, Kolkata, organized a lecture series on 23, 24, and 27 September 2019. The lectures were attended by students and faculty members from Prafulla Chandra College as well as other colleges in Kolkata. On the first day, Prof Krishna Sen spoke on the growth and development of American Literature and Culture. The second session on the second day saw Prof Siddhartha Biswas discussing the genre of detective fiction with particular reference to the "unreliable narrator" in Agatha Christie's "The Murder of Roger Ackroyd." The last lecture of the series was delivered by Dr Anupam Basu on the subject of Digital Humanities. All the lectures were followed by Q & A sessions as the participants were interested to learn more. The students were greatly benefited by these sessions and got good exposure, whereas for teachers, the lectures opened up new vistas of thought and new approaches to their classroom teaching.
